

Thomas Obermaier, CEO, RDC

CEO of RDC, Mr. Obermaier directs the company's risk management solutions, operations and strategy. During his leadership at RDC, Mr. Obermaier has developed comprehensive, decision-ready intelligence solutions that drive significant ROI for RDC's financial services, government and corporate clients.

Prior to joining RDC, Mr. Obermaier was the Chief Risk Officer for Citigroup's Global Transaction Services, a wholesale supplier of banking, security and risk services to financial institutions, governments and corporate clients worldwide. As CRO, he was responsible for all risk – including credit, market, operations, liquidity and regulatory risk. He managed $1.6 trillion in risk positions daily spread across 104 countries. He was also a member of the Management Committee, whose leadership drove revenue growth from $1.7 billion when he joined to over $10.8 billion when he joined RDC.

Mr. Obermaier is an internationally recognized expert on risk matters, particularly regulatory risk and systemic issues surrounding payments and securities settlements. A founding member of the international regulatory council, the Wolfsberg Group, Mr. Obermaier was one of the industry's first advocates of extending risk management fundamentals to the regulatory compliance arena. He is a well-regarded risk expert in the Anti-Money Laundering field and has designed global compliance systems premised on risk management fundamentals. He is a frequent lecturer worldwide on the design and application of sound AML regulatory risk management. He is an expert on settlement system design and risk management, and is an authority on settlement risk and global appropriate risk mitigation techniques.

Prior to joining Citi, Mr. Obermaier was the Chief Risk Officer for Deutsche Bank's Global Transaction Bank. He also served as the Chief Operating Officer of its Cash Management business, spearheading the Company's venture into e-business solutions such as mobile telephone payment capabilities. Before Deutsche, Mr. Obermaier was the Global Head of Anti-Money Laundering Compliance at Bankers Trust Company.

Mr. Obermaier is an attorney. He was a White Collar Criminal Defense lawyer at the international law firm Skadden Arps. Prior to that, Mr. Obermaier held a number of positions with the United States Government. He is a graduate of Columbia College and Fordham University School of Law.
